Assuming all other variables stay the same, as the wavelength of light is increased in a photoelectric effect experiment, the photocurrent

a. increases
b. decreases
c. stays the same until a cutoff point is reached and the photocurrent stops
d. fluctuates randomly
e. stays at 0 until a cutoff point is reached and a current begins to flow