The wavefunction wavelength (choose all that apply)
   a. is the wavelength of light associated with a transition between two energy states in a quantum mechanical system
   b. is the wavelength of light associated with a particle acting as a wave
   c. is also known as the de Broglie wavelength
   d. has been measured through electron diffraction experiments
   e. has been measured through absorption and emission experiments